The fund underperformed during the month due to insufficient exposure to energy and basic materials such as oil majors and steel mills which rallied in the wider market. Some higher valued positions lost ground such as SGS, Essilor and Suse. Bright spots included Swedish Match which jumped after a bid from Philip Morris and we disposed of the position. Equinor advanced 12% with energy prices. ING and Unicredit climbed 15% and 22% respectively on optimism over rising interest rates. STMicroelectronics made progress after a positive investor day setting out ambitious mid-term targets driven by strong adoption of microchips in automotive and industrial applications. In terms of transactions, we disposed of our residual position in GN after a bounce as well as some smaller positions in Publicis and Nibe.
